It's 1934, the world's most famous detective Hercule Poirot decides to have a break to read Dickens on the famous train, The Orient Express (Paris-Istanbul). The train gets stuck in an avalanche and, of course, there is a murder. Can Poirot solve the case and find the murderer before the train moves off again?

By now many of you may know the answer to who did it in Agatha Christie's most famous whodunit, but that should not impair your enjoyment of this luscious latest version. Directed by, and starring, the multi-talented Kenneth Branagh who, it must be said, seems almost thwarted by his incredible moustache...sometimes more moustache than man. A stellar cast provides the suspects, and the spectacular revelation never ceases to amaze.

So, come and enjoy an evening of fun, mystery and superb service on The Orient Express.
